

Price: £14.99

ISBN: ISBN 978 1 84114 821 2

Format: Hardback, 144 pages, 230x214mm, profusely illustrated in colour throughout.

Imprint: Halsgrove

Published: April 2008

Halsgrove Sales Contacts:

Sue Rhodes-Thompson – DDI 01823 653770 suet@halsgrove.com

Caren Ash – DDI 01823 653772 carena@halsgrove.com

Marie Lewis – DDI 01823 653771 mariel@halsgrove.com

Andrew Stirling – Mobile 07971 572468 andrews@halsgrove.com

PORTRAIT OF SNOWDONIA NEW EDITION

Jerry Rawson

There is something quite magical about the Snowdonia National Park – Parc Cenedlaethol Eryri in Welsh – which lies in the north-west of Wales and contains some of the most spectacular mountain scenery in the United Kingdom. It is a land of moors, lakes, wooded valleys and brooding, craggy mountain ranges. Within the boundary there are also the great sweeping bays such as Tremadog and Mawddach, which means that the sea is ever present and you catch glimpses of it from many mountain tops.

Jerry Rawson's superb set of over 140 evocative photographs are an emotional response to the landscape throughout all seasons, from the golden autumnal colours of the ancient woods around Dolgellau and Bala; the vast Arctic-like plateau of the Carneddau; the rugged ice-carved cwms and soaring ridges of the Glyderau and Tryfan, seen at its best in dawn light; the majestic Snowdon (Yr Wyddfa), looking quite magnificent when cloaked in snow; and finally the western coastline with its golden beaches, estuaries and sand dunes backed by mountains, and looking splendid against the setting sun.

His photographs capture brooding skies, storms sweeping across the landscape and the low light at dawn and dusk illuminating the countryside in a golden glow. Jerry's images also show the secretive corners of Snowdonia, with its waterfalls, streams, woodlands and frozen grasses, which all contribute to the moods which make Snowdonia such a unique and wonderful place.

Jerry Rawson has been walking and climbing in Snowdonia for more than four decades, and although he now lives in the Peak District, he still has a strong affinity for North Wales. His photographic work has featured in numerous magazines and books. He is a committee member of the Outdoor Writers' Guild.

Jerry recently took early retirement from lecturing at the University of Derby College, Buxton, to give him more time for his passion for landscape photography, writing and outdoor activities.

Halsgrove House, Ryelands Industrial Est.ate,
Bagley Road, Wellington, Somerset TA21 9PZ

Tel: 01823 653777 Fax: 01823 216796

www.halsgrove.com e-mail: sales@halsgrove.com

TITLE INFORMATION

HALSGROVE PUBLISHING

The cascades of Rhosdr Gwyn (Ogwen Falls) provide a foreground for this view of Pen-y-gwyl.

An early morning view of T. Gwyn and Pen-y-gwyl reflected in the still waters of Llyn Ogwen.

Example of a double page spread.

Above: The sun sets beyond the Snowdon hills in this view across Llynnau Mymbyr, near Capel Curig

Left: Early morning light brightens the impressive rocky buttresses and ridges on the east face of Tryfan, whose pyramid shape dominates this classic view through the Ogwen Valley.

TITLE INFORMATION – PORTRAIT OF SNOWDONIA

Evening sunshine picks out a lone tree, to create a dramatic image across the Llanberis Pass to Cwm Glas Mawr.

Low evening sunlight casts long shadows across the hillside near Llangynog, the Berwyn hills.