HALSGROVE PUBLISHING

TITLE INFORMATION

Price:	£14.99
ISBN:	ISBN 978 1 84114 731 4
	Hardback, 144 pages,
Format:	230x214mm, profusely illustrated
	in full colour throughout.
Imprint:	Halsgrove
Published:	June 2008

HALSGROVE DISCOVER SERIES THE CINQUE PORTS OF KENT AND SUSSEX

Andy Stansfield

Today the Confederation of Cinque Ports serves a largely ceremonial role. But the ancient ties which bind these towns together tell a fascinating story, rich in anecdote and intrigue, set in a popular tourist area which includes dramatic chalk cliffs, the Royal Military Canal, the wild expanses of Romney Marsh and the much loved Romney, Hythe and Dymchurch Railway.

Dating back over 800 years, the Cinque ports originally consisted of a group of five towns along the Kent and Sussex coast where the English Channel is at its narrowest and the threat of invasion at its greatest. The original five (cinque) were Hastings, Romney, Hythe, Dover and Sandwich. Rye and Winchelsea were later additions. The towns enjoyed special privileges such as freedom from taxes and exemption from the jurisdiction of certain courts. The abuse of these freedoms led to a thriving trade in smuggling, wrecking and piracy which has given rise to many present day tourist attractions especially in Hastings.

Well-known author and photographer Andy Stansfield paints a vivid picture of the rich past and thriving present of these historic communities, illustrated with over 100 superb colour photographs.

Andy Stansfield is a Lancashire-based photographer, feature writer and author who specialises in travel and outdoor leisure. He is the author of The Forest of Bowland and Pendle Hill, also published by Halsgrove.

Halsgrove Sales Contacts:

Sue Rhodes-Thompson – DDI 01823 653770 suet@halsgrove.com Roger Start – DDI 01823 653773 rogers@halsgrove.com Marie Lewis – DDI 01823 653771 mariel@halsgrove.com Andrew Stirling – Mobile 07971 572468 andrews@halsgrove.com

Halsgrove House, Ryelands Industrial Est.ate, Bagley Road, Wellington, Somerset TA21 9PZ Tel: 01823 653777 Fax: 01823 216796 www.halsgrove.com e-mail: sales@halsgrove.com

HALSGROVE PUBLISHING

TITLE INFORMATION – THE CINQUE PORTS OF KENT & SUSSEX

5. Winchelsea

Above: St Margaret's at Cliffe, with its unusual boathouse. Left: Strand Gate was part of the defences of the 'new' Winchelsea after the original settlement was washed away by the sea.

NF

RM

The second set of the local set is the second second set is the local s

The hierency year 200 binous were finable data gi in transmise some, the data gi i of the torse brouge logical their it was his free occurate whiteher the torse could be used. It is near of these odd agaries of horizon gi into Washedow, dioptic heing see of the most pointness of Taglida points at the time, analog badaydor at the trans. It builting the raise pointness of Taglida points at the time, analog badaydor at the trans. It builting the raise pointsenter X00 grants built handle torse that Washedow and R10 so point of the theory of

Some examples of double page spreads.

Left: The Royal Military Canal at Hythe is a major recreational resource for the town's inhabitants and visitors.

Right: The Mermaid Inn is one of Rye's most famous landmarks.

Far right: Dover Castle is perhaps the most impregnable castle in the UK.

Smallhythe Place was the home of the Victorian actress Dame Ellen Terry for the last years of her life and is now a museum dedicated to her career. It is owned by the National Trust.

The Stade at Hastings is, and always has been, the main focus for its fishing community.

