

A BOOT UP DARTMOOR RIVERS

John Earle

Halsgrove's popular Boot Up Series is fast becoming a phenomenon in local walks books that attract families and others to exploring the countryside in a leisurely way. It includes short walks for those living in or visiting popular areas of the country, written by those who know the area well. They provide a healthy hour or two of exercise, exploring parts of Britain's countryside that the casual visitor might otherwise miss, pointing out interesting features along the way. Perfect walks for families.

This book of 10 walks of varying length takes the reader along Dartmoor's beautiful river valleys, leading them alongside their tumbling waters, often providing tranquil settings of breathtaking beauty. The ten rivers explored and the routes chosen have been selected for the variety of walk they offer; and the exciting scenery:

AVON • DART • ERME • MEAVY
• PLYM • TAVY • TEIGN •
TAW • WEST DART •
WEST OKEMENT

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

John Earle has lived on Dartmoor since 1948. Formerly a headmaster, mountaineer and explorer, he became a familiar face on television in a long career as a presenter, broadcaster and scriptwriter. A Fellow of The Royal Geographical Society Alpine Club, an expedition leader and cameraman, he is also author of various mountaineering books, film scripts and walking guides for Dartmoor, Exmoor and Cornwall. He is currently Head of Outdoor Education Centre at Widecombe-in-the-Moor.
